Warning of the European Systemic Risk Board of 2 December 2021 on medium-term vulnerabilities in the residential real estate sector of Liechtenstein (ESRB/2021/14)

Dear Mr Biedermann,

This is to inform you that, on 2 December 2021, the General Board of the European Systemic Risk Board (ESRB) adopted a set of country-specific Recommendations and Warnings on medium-term vulnerabilities in the residential real estate (RRE) sector in seven countries, including Warning ESRB/2021/14 on medium-term vulnerabilities in the residential real estate sector of Liechtenstein.

The General Board of the ESRB decided to issue those Recommendations and Warnings, following a systematic and forward-looking European Economic Area-wide assessment of vulnerabilities relating to the residential real estate sector. The Recommendations are addressed to countries that received ESRB warnings in 2016 and 2019 and in which vulnerabilities related to the residential real estate as a source of systemic risk have not been sufficiently addressed, while the Warnings to countries in which vulnerabilities relating to the residential real estate as a source of systemic risk have been newly identified as not being sufficiently addressed.

As regards Liechtenstein, this recent assessment has revealed that high household indebtedness is the main source of systemic risk, making the household sector vulnerable to other unexpected macroeconomic shocks.
