Call for expressions of interest from external experts to be appointed as members of the Advisory Scientific Committee of the European Systemic Risk Board (Frankfurt am Main, Germany)

Introduction

In accordance with Article 4(1) and (5) and Article 12 of Regulation (EU) No 1092/2010 of the European Parliament and of the Council¹, the European Systemic Risk Board (ESRB) shall have an Advisory Scientific Committee (ASC), which shall provide advice and assistance on issues relevant to the ESRB's work. In this regard, and further to Article 1(1) of Decision ESRB/2011/2 of the European Systemic Risk Board², the ESRB is hereby launching a process for the selection of the members of the ASC.

The ESRB is therefore calling for expressions of interest from external experts with a view to them being appointed as members of the ASC for a four-year renewable mandate. Employees of institutions from which the ESRB's General Board draws its members³ are, however, not eligible to apply⁴. The experts will be chosen on the basis of their general competence and diverse experience in academic fields or other sectors, in particular in small and medium-sized enterprises or trade unions, or as providers or consumers of financial services⁵.

To further enhance the diversity of ASC members, applications from female candidates are particularly encouraged.

1. The ESRB and the ASC

The ESRB is a Union-level body responsible for the macro-prudential oversight of the financial system within the Union. In this regard, its mission is to contribute to the prevention or mitigation of systemic risks to financial stability. In accordance with Article 12(1) of Regulation (EU) No 1092/2010, following a proposal made by the ESRB's Steering Committee, the ESRB's General Board shall approve external experts as members of the ASC and establish a reserve list.

2. The role of the ASC

² Decision of the European Systemic Risk Board of 20 January 2011 on the procedures and requirements for the selection, appointment and replacement of the members of the Advisory Scientific Committee of the European Systemic Risk Board (ESRB/2011/2) (OJ C 39, 8.2.2011, p. 10).

- 2.1 The ASC is an integral part of the ESRB and provides advice and assistance to it at the request of the ESRB's Chair or the General Board⁶. The ASC members are expected to make a substantial contribution to the delivery of the mandate of the ASC. Among other tasks, the contributions which ASC members are required to provide include:
- (i) contributions on how to improve analytical methodologies to detect risks and assess potential impacts of their materialisation;
 - (ii) contributions on how to design and calibrate effective macro-prudential policy tools, including improving existing tools and models as well as proposing new and/or complementary tools and models;
 - (iii) consultative tasks, including an open, independent and analytical review of macro-prudential strategies and operational frameworks, in order to contribute to ensuring a state-of-the-art ESRB policy framework.
- 2.2 All ASC documents and reports are drafted in English, which is the ESRB's working language. The ASC's reports may, where authorised by the General Board, be published on the ESRB's website⁷.
- 2.3 Furthermore, where appropriate, the ASC may organise consultations at an early stage with stakeholders such as market participants, consumer bodies and academic experts, in an open and transparent manner, while taking into account the requirement of confidentiality⁸.
- 2.4 ASC meetings are usually held quarterly.

3. Composition of the ASC

The ASC is composed of 15 experts representing a wide range of skills, experience and knowledge pertaining to all relevant financial markets sectors. In addition, the Chair of the Advisory Technical Committee (ATC) also sits on the ASC⁹. With the exception of the ATC's Chair, the ASC members may not be employees of the institutions from which the General Board draws its members¹⁰.

4. The Chair and the Vice-Chairs

The Chair and the two Vice-Chairs of the ASC are appointed by the General Board following a proposal from the ESRB's Chair¹¹. The chairmanship of the ASC rotates between the Chair and the Vice-Chairs every 16 months¹². The Chair and the Vice-Chairs are members of the General Board with voting rights¹³. The ASC's Chair is also a member of the Steering Committee¹⁴. The General Board meets at

ANNEX

Terms of reference for the reimbursement of expenses incurred by experts appointed as ASC members

1. General rule

The ECB reimburses the below listed expenses related to ASC meetings provided that they are not covered by a third party. If the expert is entitled to reimbursement by a third party of expenses which would otherwise be covered by the ECB in connection with the expert's participation in the ASC meeting (e.g., the reimbursement of a return flight from another event being at the same time an inbound flight for the ASC meeting), the expert should notify the ECB to this effect and the ECB will make a decision as to whether to cover such expenses.

2. Travel costs

2.1 General

The ECB reimburses return travel between the expert's place of residence and the venue of the meeting in accordance with the following rules. In the cases where the reimbursement is requested for travel between a place other than the expert's place of residence and the venue of the meeting the expert should notify the ECB in advance in order to establish the possible scope of the reimbursement by the ECB.

2.2 Travel by rail

The ECB reimburses first-class rail travel, including, where necessary, any surcharges for using special trains (ICE, IC, EC, etc.) on the basis of the most convenient and fastest route and provided that actual rail tickets are submitted. The expert should endeavour to take advantage of early booking fares.

2.3 Travel by air

Air travel is in principle only reimbursed on the basis of the most convenient and fastest route and if the alternative available journey by rail would exceed four hours per day. The ECB reimburses return tickets for a direct flight, provided that actual boarding passes (which could be print-outs of boarding passes based on electronic tickets) are submitted. Unless agreed otherwise in a specific case, economy class tickets are reimbursed for flights within the EU and business or economy class tickets are reimbursed for flights on other routes. The expert should endeavour to take advantage of early booking fares.

2.4 Travel by car

If the expert travels by private car, the ECB will reimburse the equivalent of a return first-class rail ticket between the railway station closest to the expert's place of residence and the venue of the meeting. This payment shall cover all expenses relating to the use of the car. The expert should attach evidence of the rail ticket price to the claim. The ECB is not liable for any damage, injury or loss arising from the trip. Furthermore, the ECB declines liability for any costs arising as a result of alleged or actual offences committed in breach of road traffic laws and regulations. The ECB does not reimburse car rental expenses.

2.5 Taxis and public transport

The ECB reimburses fares for travel by taxi or on public transport to/from the airport/railway station and between the hotel/ place of residence and the venue of the meeting, provided that actual taxi bills or public transport tickets are submitted. The expert should endeavour to use public transport rather than taxis when adequate service is available and in particular in cases where the taxi bill would exceed EUR 50.

2.6 Missed connections

Should the expert fail to board the train or flight through no fault of the railway or airline operator and consequently miss the meeting, the expert shall not be entitled to any reimbursements related to this meeting.

3. Hotel accommodation costs

The ECB reimburses reasonable expenses for a hotel room (single occupancy with en suite bathroom and breakfast) for the minimum number of nights required to attend the meeting. Additional sundry expenses, e.g., mini-bar, telephone calls, internet use, laundry, or any other service offered by the hotel, are not reimbursed. If the ECB negotiates discounted rates with hotels, a list of hotels that offer special rates to the ECB's guests will be provided and the expert will be expected to use a hotel from the list or another hotel within the same price range. The expert should pay for his or her hotel room and include the receipt in the claim for reimbursement. The expert should contact the ECB if assistance is needed in arranging the accommodation.

4. Meals

Refreshments and meals will usually be provided during the meeting. In cases where lunch or dinner is not provided by the ECB, the expert may claim up to a EUR 50 for each lunch and dinner during the period of the expert's stay required to attend the meeting, provided that receipts are submitted.

5. Reimbursement procedure

5.1 Settlement of expenses

The expert should pay travel and accommodation expenses, and be reimbursed subsequently by the ECB. The expert should submit a claim for reimbursement in the form required by the ECB, attach the original invoices/receipts (e.g., boarding passes, train tickets or evidence of rail ticket cost in the case of travel by car, hotel invoices, etc.) and return them to the ECB – Accounting Division within 6 months after the meeting. The claim and attachments should clearly show the nature of the expenses, the date of incurrence and the amount claimed. Credit card slips are not accepted. Expenses that are not supported by an invoice or receipt are, in principle, not reimbursed. The expert should indicate the preferred means of reimbursement, i.e. bank transfer or cheque, as well as the relevant purchase order number (PO number), if such was communicated to the expert.

5.2 Shared invoices

Where invoices/receipts presented for reimbursement cover persons accompanying the expert, the amount reimbursed per person is the total amount of the invoice divided by the number of persons sharing the invoice. By way of exception, in this case, the ECB may accept copies of a shared invoice/ receipt.

5.3 Exchange rates

Claims in currencies other than euro will be paid at the equivalent of the euro amount. When converting amounts in a foreign currency into euro, the ECB applies the exchange rate in force on the first day of the relevant ESRB meeting or other ESRB event.

5.4 Missing invoices

If, exceptionally, it is not possible to obtain an invoice, or if the original invoice has been lost, the expert should submit a signed personal declaration to that effect. On receipt of this declaration, the ECB decides whether or not to reimburse these expenses.
